Do you feel as if you need an instruction manual? I believe that most women will feel well, regardless of whatever situation that they find themselves in. With some insight into why babies act the way they do, they can tune in to their babies, find ways to meet them and enjoy parenting. * How do I know what my baby needs? * How can I be sure that I am doing the right things for my baby? * How can I make the anxiety about caring for my baby go away? * How can I enjoy parenting my baby? These were my questions when I became a new mum. They are also the questions I found, from my professional experience as a health visitor that parents want answered when their new baby is born. Tune In To Your Baby was born out of my own experience in pregnancy. After spending almost five months being hospitalised in pregnancy and a relationship breakdown, I was discharged home with a premature baby, and I wanted to know about how to meet his needs. Tune In To Your Baby will enable you to answer the above questions. In it, I share my journey and professional insights in order to help you tune in and satisfy your baby's needs. Tune In To Your Baby will facilitate you in choosing who you want to be, doing what you want to do so that you can enjoy parenting from conception through to toddlerhood.

Moon Manual Sep 15 2021 There is renewed interest in the Moon in recent years, with the news that a Chinese lunar rover landed on the Moon in January 2014 announcing that it is looking for private partners to land a robot on the Moon's surface, as the first step in a programme to exploit the commercial opportunities of the Moon. Recent lunar expeditions by both orbiting spacecraft and 'landers' have uncovered far more detail about the Moon's surface and geology, including the tracks of Armstrong's first walk on the Moon in 1969. This manual explains in simple and straightforward terms, with a wealth of illustrations and photographs, what we know about the Moon over the centuries, along with a general overview of the vehicles involved in the exploration.
